They Find Quints Frivolous Actresses

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR. VOL. XXXII, No. 290 EDMONTON, ALBERTA—WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11, 1935 Single Copy, Five Cents

Movie men engaged in filming "The Country Doctor" at the Dornier hospital at Callander, Ont., have gone into raptures over the Dionne quintuplets and the ability of the five famous sisters to act. Originally it was planned to show only a few incidental scenes of the quintuplets, but so appealing are they, that the script has been twice changed to incorporate more shots. But the actors and actresses have their troubles, too, the expensive little children are as just learning to walk and in the above picture, Miss Dorothy Peterson, who plays the part of a Red Cross nurse and Jean Herlihy, who enacts the countess doctor, are having difficulty rounding up the children.

But is Driving Power at Dominion Provincial Parley

look, and they were given a chance to exercise it. He believed in the liberal injection of young men into the various and varied old jobs. He was not from Ontario and had never seen victims of a greater concentration. He did not see the danger of the past.

In no case was this more strongly emphasized than in the committee on unemployment and relief. Young Norman Rogers presided and with him there was young Angus Macdonald of New Scotia and Harry of British Columbia, Davis of Saskatchewan, Crill of Ontario and others who had attained full responsibility in their home provinces by their ability and youthfulness.

WANT SOMETHING PERMANENT
They wanted a new layout altogether for unemployment and relief. They wanted the provincial military camp system wiped out, and the men distributed into agricultural occupation. They didn't want a rehabilitating of the old practices, they wanted a new and permanent something objective, a vision ahead instead of a dream behind.

But Quebec, so it is said, cared not for these things. In the future committee, Thacher was intimidated as much. What he wanted to have was how much military domination was prepared to give to the provinces. Young Rogers' views were not shared.

SAVED THE CHILD
The committee was not concerned as to whether the child, but rather, to control military power. Young Rogers saved the child by promising to be a soldier, he intimated. The relief camp system was to be taken over by the Department of Labor and away from the provinces.

The delegates made no demand that they should have anything to say, some times in camp language and from first hand experience. But the delegates had no right to say anything to the system working out as closely as possible in the provinces where they were situated.

The young men of the conference said much attention to the problem of the young men in the provinces. Let the delegates, he said, but the new generation must be waiting for work should be trained. A few days ago in Ottawa a young man working as a minor clerk pleaded for two years in the provinces where he could learn a trade.

The delegates' statements are seeking a way of giving young men training without their going to jail.

WORK AND WAGES
With Mr. Rogers on Macdonald, the youngest minister of the Ontario delegation, who was seated, and at one with his colleagues, the delegates were seated. It is a safe bet that the delegates will be satisfied by the time they get home. The delegates will differ little under the same name. The delegates will differ little under the same name. DELEGATES INTERLUDE
The delegates by and large were intrigued as to the attitude of the Ontario delegation, whose thump presided over hard and fast on the provincial government house. Most of the Ontario ministers, however, took the trip to Rideau Hall. Premier Hepburn, his health still not good, went to his room for a rest and David Crill took his coat off and did some more sleeping at his unemployment and relief problems.

Italy And the Standard Oil Co.

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.
Much free advertisement has been given to the Standard Oil Company in the publication of cable stories that the Standard Oil Subsidiary Company in Italy has been given to maintain Italy's oil supplies in return for a thirty year monopoly of oil sales in Italy. The publicity suggests that the Subsidiary Company must have been taken into the hands of the Standard Oil Company in advance.

This is based on a misunderstanding of the situation. The controlling interest in the Standard Oil Company some years ago established subsidiary companies in European countries, so that oil tankers could be built and registered under the flag of the country in which each respective subsidiary was registered. There are British tankers, and French, German and Italian tankers built and registered and operating under this policy.

The policy works out all right in times of peace; but immediately war breaks out each subsidiary is subject to the direction, orders, and control of the nation in which it is registered and the Standard Oil Company has nothing to say.

The Italian Subsidiary Company is a citizen of Italy and must carry and deliver oil as directed by the Italian Government. At the slightest hesitation in carrying out directions, the Italian Government has full power to put in receivers of all the property and ships of the Subsidiary Company and carry on operations so long as may be thought fit. It is only a course of dealing between the Italian Government and one of its own citizens, no other nation has any right to interfere or complain.

It is one of the hazards undertaken when a subsidiary company is once established under a foreign flag. There are hundreds of such companies lawfully operating in the world. In event of war each becomes directly subject to the orders of the country in which it is registered.

Italy will certainly get all the oil which the Subsidiary Company has funds or is furnished with Government funds to pay for. The officials of the Company must carry out Government orders or be shot at sunrise or earlier.

Teacher-Trustee Meeting Ends in Virtual Deadlock

Speakers on Both Sides Air Their Views But Neither Attempt Any Modification of Their Stand

Two and one-half hours of discussion in a conference between teachers and trustees ended in a virtual deadlock Tuesday evening, ended with no agreement reached on 1936 salaries.

Speakers on both sides aired their views, declaring their present position, but neither attempted any modification of their stand. The teachers returned to their homes for a fresh council of war. The trustees, whose views were in some cases divergent, decided to arrive at a common policy in a special board meeting to be held this week.

Stating the stand of the alliance, Dr. Clarke, chairman of the teachers' conference, committee, said the delegates were instructed to agree to no reduction in the present scale but to press for an upward revision of present rates.

Further basis for their bargaining was that any reduction in the present scale would mean a reduction in the present scale but to press for an upward revision of present rates.

AMPLE FUNDS TO DISBURSE COMPENSATION

Relatives of Coalhurst Explosion Victims Will Be Cared For

There is sufficient money in the Workmen's Compensation Disbursement Fund to care for all claims made against it as a result of the explosion at the Coalhurst mine, according to the trustees, who are now considering the claims.

Dr. Wright's statement was made following a query from Leithridge as to whether the fund would be taken care of to the full extent of the liability or if some portion of it would be insufficient funds being available.

Cafe Minimum Pay Rules to Be Revised, Says Manning

Consideration is being given by the government to improving the clause governing the minimum wage in the Minimum Wage Act, according to Acting Premier Hon. Ernest C. Manning. This means a general tightening up of the regulations.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

—By William Ferguson

THE timber of Alaska is confined principally to the Tongass and Chugach forest reservations. The Tongass, located in the southeastern part, contains about 30,000 square miles. Because of the inferior quality of Alaskan timber, and the distance to markets, the lumbering industry has not thrived there.
